During the difficult period of the COVID-19 pandemic, I began making candles as a way to cope with the stress and challenges of life. It was a time of reflection, and through creating scents, I found a way to deal with the grief I had carried since losing my dad in 2012. Creating candles and crafting unique scents helped me find comfort and peace, reminding me of cherished family memories and providing an outlet for my emotions. In 2023 the name became official.
