SECTION 1 INVITATION TO PARTICIPATE

1.1 Purpose and Objectives

Monroe County is seeking qualifications from capable individuals/entities to conduct a minimum of four [4] Girls' Circle curriculum cycles per year, for Probation-involved youth. The cycles will involve approximately 40 adolescent girls per year, as referred by Monroe County Office of Probation. The 2013 budget amount for the delivery of these services is $30,000.00.

The Girls' Circle curriculum is a research-based model consisting of a strength-based skill building approach which creates a safe place for girls to address their risky behaviors, build on protective factors, and improve relationships. It is recognized as a "promising approach" in the Office of Juvenile Justice Delinquency Prevention (OJJDP) Model Programs Guide.

The Girls' Circle therapist will be primarily responsible for delivery of this guided curriculum through group and individual sessions, outreach to family, tailoring of service to meet individual client needs and referral and connections with other supportive services in conjunction with Probation Officers.

As a result of this Request for Qualifications ("RFQ"), Monroe County intends to enter into a contract with one selected individual or agency. The contract will be from 1/1/13 to 12/31/13, renewable for up to two additional one-year terms.

1.5 Overview of the Organization

Monroe County is located in the Finger Lakes Region of New York State, where the Genesee River meets the south shore of Lake Ontario. Monroe County has a population of over 735,000 residents. The County is comprised of 19 towns, 10 villages and the City of Rochester, the third largest city in New York State.

Monroe County government, with a workforce of approximately 4,600 full and part-time employees, has an annual operating budget close to $1 billion. County government provides a variety of services, including: public safety, health and human services, economic development, recreation, transportation and environmental services. Monroe County also owns and operates the Greater Rochester International Airport and leases and operates the Seneca Park Zoo.

The Office of Probation – Community Corrections (“Probation”) provides a multitude of State mandated services, including investigations for Family Court, investigation services to the Criminal Courts, and supervision and treatment services to all clients sentenced to probation. All Probation efforts have the underlying objective of identifying services and programs that encourage the offender to become a law-abiding citizen. Probation is dedicated to assisting the courts in rendering decisions and then enforcing the orders of the Court. Officers are responsible for client screening, initial risk and needs assessment and recommendations prior to final court disposition. Afterwards, Officers enforce the conditions of the probation sentence; refer clients with treatment, monitor progress, and report violations to the sentencing court.

Staff collaborates extensively with the New York State (“NYS”) Division of Criminal Justice Services (“DCJS”), the NYS Office of Children and Family Services (“OCFS”), law enforcement agencies, victims, community/neighborhood organizations, governmental entities, judges, schools, treatment agencies, offenders, and families to enhance the public safety of Monroe County.

SECTION 2 BACKGROUND/SCOPE OF QUALIFICATIONS

2.1 Background

Girls' Circle is a structured support group that addresses the specialized needs of girls ages 9–18 by integrating relational–cultural theory (RCT), resiliency practices, and skills training into a specific format designed to increase positive connection, personal and collective strengths, and competence in girls. It aims to counteract social and interpersonal forces that impede girls' growth and development and has been used since 1994 in a broad spectrum of settings with diverse female populations and programs.

The theoretical underpinning of the Girls' Circle relies on RCT, which suggests that growth-fostering relationships are a central human necessity and that disconnections are the source of psychological problems. The theory views a girl's connections with others as a central organizing feature in her psychological makeup. The quality of these connections determines her overall psychological health, self-image, and relationships. Within this theoretical framework, the Girls' Circle model aims not only to reduce risk factors for delinquent behavior but also to increase protective factors for resiliency against difficult situations.

The program consists of a 10-week curriculum. Each week a group of girls of similar age and development meets with a facilitator for either 90- or 120-minute sessions. During this time, the girls take turns talking and listening to one another respectfully about their concerns and interests. They further express themselves through creative or directed activities such as role-playing, drama, journaling, poetry, dance, drawing, collage, and clay. Gender-specific themes and topics are introduced that relate to the girls' lives, such as body image, goals, sexuality, drugs, alcohol, tobacco, competition, decision-making, friendships, and trusting oneself. A key component in the model is the council-type format of one group member speaking at a time, with the expectation of attentive listening from other participants. This form of communication intends to increase empathy skills and mutual understanding among the whole group. The primary feature, rather than a structure marked by separateness and autonomy, is an increase of empathic responsiveness in the context of interpersonal mutuality.

Probation will maintain the option to sanction any youth for failing to attend these classes dependent on the youth's individual case. Girls that miss more than two [2] sessions must be readmitted to the next curriculum cycle.

2.2 Scope of Qualifications

Individuals or organizations wishing to participate must be trained in the Girls' Circle curriculum, so that the curriculum can be provided to the first cycle of adolescent girls by March 1, 2013. In addition, individuals or organizations must be able to:

- provide a minimum of four [4] Girls' Circle curriculum cycles per year;
- serve approximately 40 adolescent girls per year, as referred by Probation;
- facilitate groups [up to 10 participants] at Probation or at the agency's site;
- maintain data on attendance and individual progress;

- assist Probation in compiling program reports;
- conduct follow-up activities with client and family, including fieldwork; and
- work in conjunction with Probation to evaluate outcomes for girls in the program.

2.3 Outcomes and Measures

A. Outcomes:

To reduce out-of-home placement and recidivism with probation-involved girls.

To increase positive connection, personal and collective strengths, and competence in girls.

B Measures:

The number of girls referred to the program.

The number of girls that start the program.

The number of girls that complete the program.

The number of girls that are placed in out-of home settings.

The number of girls rearrested.

The number and percent of girls that increased their Youth Assessment and Screening Instrument [“YASI”] scores after completing the curriculum.

These measures will be reported quarterly in the Monroe County web-based contract management system, Contract HQ.

The selected Respondent will be required to assume responsibility for all services offered in its proposal whether or not provided by them. The selected

In submitting a proposal in response to this RFQ, the Respondent acknowledges and agrees that the Work (and all rights therein) belongs to and shall be the sole and exclusive property of the County.

The Respondent and the Respondent’s employees shall have no rights in or ownership of the Work and any and all documentation or other products and results of the services or any other property of the County.
