

OLMSTED & AMERICA'S URBAN PARKS: A DOCUMENTARY

by REBECCA MESSNER

Wednesday April 6th, 7:00 pm - Rochester Museum and Science Center Eisenhart Auditorium
Free and open to the public - Handicapped accessible - Free parking available

Presented by The Monroe County Department of Parks, The Highland Park Conservancy, American Society of Landscape Architects (Upstate NY Chapter), Friends & Neighbors of Seneca Park, and The Landmark Society of Western NY

Followed by a brief panel discussion on Frederick Law Olmsted's contributions to the Rochester/Monroe County Parks System with Tim O'Connell, historian & parks advocate; Katie Eggers Comeau, architectural historian; and Mark Quinn, Monroe County's superintendent of horticulture. Join us for an evening where we celebrate the formation of our nation's grand urban parks by America's foremost park planner and landscape architect.

Thanks to our additional sponsors: AIA Rochester, People for Parks, Rochester Museum and Science Center, Rochester Regional Community Design Center, and University of Rochester Libraries
