The Dashboard is the starting screen that you will be directed to upon logging into Board View.

The Dashboard View contains 4 main components for meeting preparation.

- Calendar – Shows all upcoming meetings.
- No. of Days until the meeting and No. of items that have been fully approved by staff to go on this agenda.
- Items by category, the blue bar shows the number of items in each agenda category.
- Items Reviewed and the item not yet reviewed. Items in red have had a significant change and need a last minute review.

The Calendar shows all upcoming meetings in the system. It also shows the previous days meetings in order to review those that just passed. Use the scroll buttons at the bottom to navigate to see all of the meetings listed.

All future meetings will be listed here. Even though a meeting is listed, all of the items may not have been approved yet and it may not be marked for viewing. This is the difference between those with the HTML/PDF buttons available and those that do not have these.

The meetings marked for viewing will be available when the HTML link is shown in the column. You can also download the agenda PDF and the minutes PDF if available. We suggest using the HTML version for the meeting since it is more efficient.

Number of Days Until Meeting
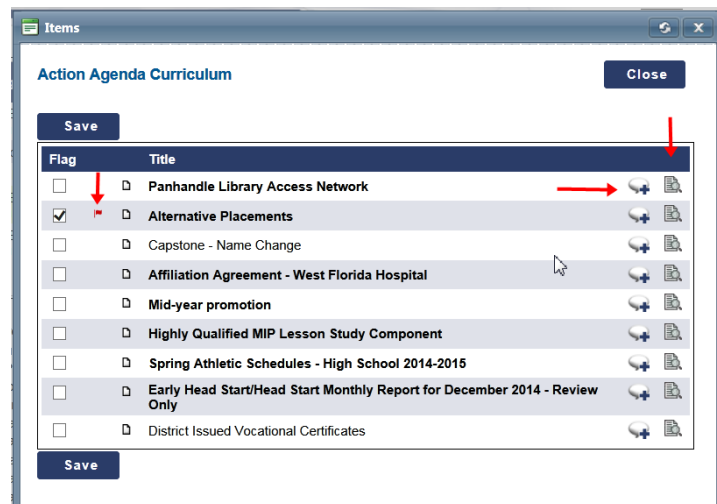

This chart shows the number of days left until the meeting, how many items are on the agenda and how many items still need to be approved by staff.

Number of Items by Agenda Category
Shows you how many items are in each agenda category. To view the items click on the blue indicator bar for that category.

A screen listing all of the items in that category appears. Use the cover sheet link to view the item details and access Attachments. Next to the coversheet link is the comment link allowing users to add private personal comments as part of their meeting preparation.

To the left of each item title is the attachment indicator. When present it alerts the user that there are attachments on this item. Users access attachment by viewing the cover sheet.

The flag feature, far left allows users to flag items for their personal attention. Individual flags are set by each users and are only viewed by that user, not others.
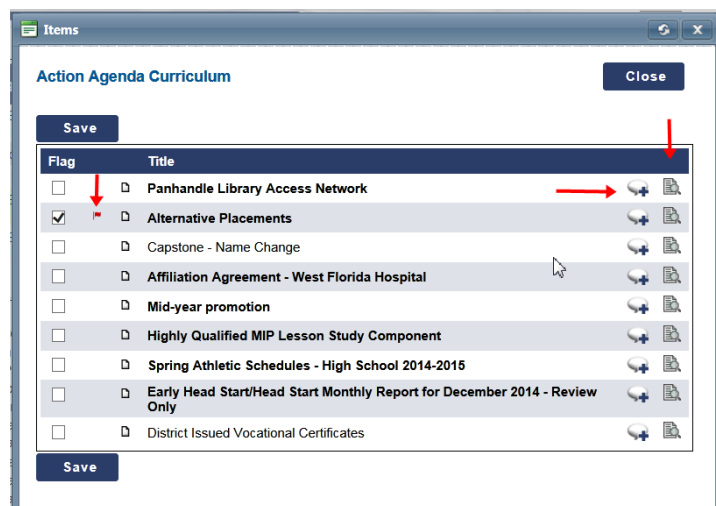

Once the cover sheet is open you can review the details on this individual item. When you are finished viewing this item scroll to the top and use the back button to return to the list. Attachments are at the bottom of the cover sheet and you can open them by clicking on the attachment link

Back on the items screen you can add or access comments that you had previously added by clicking the comment bubble. Be sure to save any comments after entering them. You can access them during the meeting. Comments are unique to you. Only you can see your comments. If the comment bubble has a Plus sign, +, on it that indicates there are no existing comments on that item.

Flag
Click the check box next to an item to flag it for further review or for special note to come back to it later. This will put the item in category called FLAGGED on the Dashboard for that particular meeting. Clicking the blue bar for FLAGGED will bring up all items flagged for additional review. Flagged items are private and only seen by you.

Once you are finished reviewing all of the items in this category, use the close button to return to the dashboard and go to the next category.

Items Reviewed

Shows how many items have been reviewed, how many items need to still be reviewed, and how many have been changed since your last viewing. A red indicator will appear at the top of the chart if any items have been changed since the last time you reviewed this item. This means that the agenda preparer has made a change to an item and used the notify feature to make you aware of the change.

To review any of the items that need to be reviewed you can click on the blue portion of the bar and it will bring up a list of the items needing review. You can then scroll through and review those items. You can also view the already viewed and changed items by clicking the green or red portions respectively.

During the Meeting

From the dashboard, click on the HTML link to the right of the meeting that you want to participate in and you will be taken to the in meeting view.

On the left side of the screen is the list of all the items on this meeting agenda. We suggest using this list view because it is very efficient to navigate particularly on tablet devices which are common in today's meetings.

This list displays all the categories and items for that particular meeting. Categories have a gray background and items have a green background. From this view you can see items cover sheets, items that have comments, Attachments, and items with Flags for personal attention.
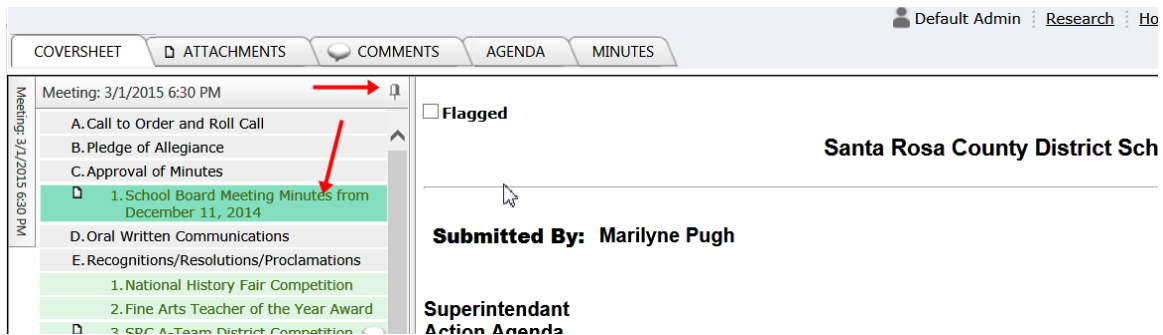

Click on an item to view the cover sheet, which will appear in the right window. If you would to make this the size of the full page, use the tack to PIN and unpin the tree view for more viewing area.
Notice that the item that you selected is now highlighted. Across the top there are tabs that you can toggle through for the comments, attachments, agenda and minutes. Minutes will be available when the have been published.
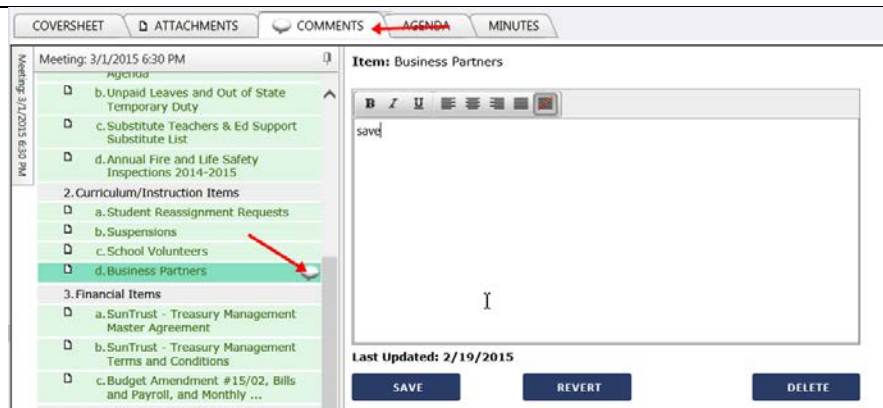

Click on a comment bubble to bring up the comment or an alternate method for the bubble comment it to select the comments tab at the top.

Traditional Agenda View

Toggling between Agenda and Minutes tabs

Once the desired meeting or comment has been selected, the meeting for that date will display on the next screen.

You now have options to view the AGENDA or MINUTES for that particular meeting date. Simply click on the Agenda "Agenda tab" or Minutes "Minutes tab" to toggle between the two screens.

If there are no minutes for that particular date, a message will be displayed:
