Monroe County Executive Maggie Brooks today announced that applications are being accepted for the third class of The Entrepreneurs Network (TEN). Class III begins the program in May and ends in November.

The application deadline is April 6, 2007. Up to 20 participants will be selected for the program. Application forms can be completed online at www.ten-ny.com.

“Monroe County is proud to be the founding sponsor of The Entrepreneurs Network, which is part of our strong commitment to creating jobs and growing our region’s entrepreneurial economy,” said Brooks. “To date, 34 companies have benefited from the program and we look forward to helping even more entrepreneurs take their companies to the next level.”

TEN classes meet twice a month for six months and interact directly with top local and national experts. Topics covered by TEN include securing venture capital, forming strategic alliances, defining market strategies and other practical information.

TEN is specifically designed for entrepreneurs who have already launched their business and are looking to dramatically improve the odds of growing revenues, improving fundraising success, developing an integrated and supported business plan, creating a dynamic management team, and understanding and capitalizing on unique customer and market opportunities.
