

Do you have Child or Dependent Care Expenses?

Enroll in a Dependent Care Flexible Spending Account (FSA) to pay for dependent care expenses and lower your taxable income!

Millions of people rely on child care to be able to work, while others are responsible for older parents or disabled family members. A Dependent Care FSA helps reduce your expenses by using pre-tax dollars.

To participate in the Dependent Care FSA you must make an election before the beginning of the plan year. The IRS limits the amount you can put into a dependent care FSA, up to: $5,000 per year, if you are married & filing a joint return, unmarried couples, & single parents or $2,500 per year, if you are married and filing separately.

Before enrolling in the dependent care FSA, you should consider the following:

- Dependent Care FSAs are not prefunded. You pay expenses out-of-pocket, then receive reimbursement based on how much you have had withheld from your paycheck for dependent care expenses.
- Contact your tax advisor to compare potential tax benefits with the child and dependent care tax credit. You will need to report your Dependent Care FSA contributions on your federal tax Form 2441.
- Dependent Care FSAs operate with a "use it or lose it" policy, meaning that you must use all of the money you deposited into the account for qualified expenses by the end of the plan year or you will lose your money.
- You can only change the amount of money you choose to have withheld from your paycheck for the FSA within a 31-day window following a "qualified event", such as a marriage, the birth or adoption of a child, the death of a dependent, divorce, change in your (or your spouse's) employment, or a significant increase/decrease in dependent care expenses.
