FORE! MONROE COUNTY EXECUTIVE ADAM BELLO ANNOUNCES
COUNTY GOLF COURSES TO OPEN MONDAY, APRIL 21
FOR 2025 SEASON

ROCHESTER, NY — County Executive Adam Bello today announced the return of golf at the Monroe County Parks' three public golf courses. Beginning Monday, April 21 the golf courses at Durand Eastman, Genesee Valley and Churchville will open for the 2025 season.

"Monroe County offers three affordable, accessible, and competitive golf courses that provide a terrific opportunity for residents to get out and enjoy a great sport," said County Executive Bello. "As warmer days approach, I encourage golfers of all skill levels to take advantage of the facilities we have and hit the links!"

Genesee Valley Golf Course offers two exceptionally maintained 18-hole golf courses, an all grass driving range, and the Calvin Peete Pitch & Putt practice area. Churchville features 27 holes of championship golf, a large practice putting and chipping green, and an all grass driving range. Durand Eastman is a Robert Trent Jones, Sr. designed 18-hole championship golf course in a beautiful park-like setting. In addition, residents can take part in lessons, tournaments and leagues at all three Monroe County golf courses.

Free permits for discounted greens fees throughout the season are available for seniors 62 and over, active military, veterans, youth 17 and under, and golfers with a physician-certified disability. Qualifying residents can apply for a free permit at any pro shop at each of the three county courses.

Tee times may be booked online at www.monroecountyparksgolf.com.

Due to wet course conditions, driving ranges are closed. They will re-open when conditions permit.
